Who Is This Vendor Assessment For?

NelsonHall's Advanced Digital Workplace Services Vendor Assessment for DXC Technology is a comprehensive assessment of DXC Technology's digital workplace services offerings and capabilities designed for:

- Sourcing managers monitoring the capabilities of existing suppliers of IT services and identifying vendor suitability for digital workplace services
- Vendor marketing, sales and business managers looking to benchmark themselves against their peers
- Financial analysts and investors specializing in digital workplace services.

Key Findings & Highlights

DXC Technology provides digital workplace services as part of its Workplace and Mobility practice. It provides services under its MyWorkStyle offering, which is its brand for delivering engaging experiences for employees, through smart connected workplaces, and driving innovation through automation. This is underpinned by Bionix, its framework for intelligent digital automation, which incorporates features including Analytics and AI, Lean, and Automation.

Bionix is delivered through Platform DXC, its digital-generation platform providing modular, reusable, and automated services, with offerings designed for operations from day one. Platform DXC is used to analyze and automate IT environments using near-real-time data collection to measure performance and identify potential efficiency gains. It has orchestration capabilities, enabling the creation of workflows and processes with the data, including intelligence and automation tools. Platform DXC is technology agnostic and incorporates partner and open source technologies including from AWS, GCP, Microsoft (cloud hosting), ServiceNow, Micro Focus, and Flexera (orchestration), Turbonomic, blueprism, and UiPath (automation).
