Key Findings & Highlights

Redwood Software is a process automation company that delivers flexible and managed software solutions to eliminate manual tasks, unleash human potential, and drive business success. More than 3,000 customers worldwide use Redwood products to automate their mission-critical business and IT processes. The company was founded in the Netherlands in 1993 by Tijl Vuyk, who remains CEO. Under his direction, Redwood has maintained consistent and remarkable focus and leadership in the automation space.

Top tasks automated in Redwood Robotics solutions include finance, HR, IT process automation, supply chain management, compliance, billing and invoicing, meter to cash, utilities, procurement, workload automation, and analytics. All of these activities are constructed from the basic building blocks of process definitions and process chains. These building blocks also include the many pre-built, reusable robotic components included in the Catalog, which greatly simplifies the process of automating complex activities. These components include complete processes for:

- SAP

- Oracle (including PeopleSoft)

- Excel

- Microsoft Office

- Word

- Workflow

- File Management

- Business Processes.

Redwood has eight delivery offices worldwide: two in the U.S. (Morrisville, North Carolina and Aliso Viejo, California); two in Germany (Reilingen and Dusseldorf); and one each in the U.K., Netherlands, Switzerland, and France.
